

✚ Collaboration with NGOs and in Organizing Mass Awareness Related Events

✚ Meet with Non-Government Organisations (NGO's)

Dissemination of information and sharing of ideas & initiatives always proved to be one of the best ways to formulate effective plans and programmes for environmental management. The exchange of thought and knowledge enrich the counterparts and hence is very essential while dealing with the problem like environmental pollution.

Moments of NGO Meet organized by the PCBA

The Pollution Control Board, Assam (PCBA) always giving due importance on dissemination of information and sharing of ideas and thought with different sections of the society.

✚ Collaboration in Organizing Mass Awareness Related Events

To encourage different organization to work in the field of environment, the Board regularly offers its financial, manpower, and infrastructure support to organizations working in the field of environment and more especially the activities related to the mass awareness. During the year 2009 to 2015, the Board has extended many such support to many organization. Some of the organisations received such support from the Board are – IIT, Guwahati, Assam Engineering College, Institute of Engineers, Assam Chapter, People's Friend Foundation (Reg. Society), Aroha Emperor (NGO), Pathik (NGO), Assam science Society etc.

A national seminar on "Urban Waste Disposal and its impact on Environment and Public Health Quest for Solutions" had been organized by the Department of Chemistry, Sivasagar College in collaboration with the Pollution Control Board, Assam. The seminar was held on 23rd, 24th and 25th September, 2010 at Sivasagar College, Joysagar, Assam. Scholars, Experts, Scientist, Academician, Young Researchers,

Personals from Public Health Department and Industrial Department were attended the seminar and deliberated their research works on the urban waste disposal and its impact on environment and public health and on its management strategies.

Er. Arun Kumar Dutta (left), Chairman, Pollution Control Board, Assam participated in the Valedictory Session of the National Seminar as Chairperson